As you know, not all of what is listed here is a fact.

You will see our Lord.

Allah is beautiful.

I believe Allah is infinite. That would be beyond words if true.

Paradise will be like nothing you have ever experienced; we humans have such little knowledge of what Paradise is like and what Paradise is capable of. Paradise will not be like you think.

When you see Paradise, you will bawl your eyes out. You will fall to your knees and yell while saying Allah's name. You will not know how to act; the shock is unreal.

Paradise is better than what one can dream of.

When you enter Paradise, the introduction from Angels signing praise cannot be described.

There is more in Paradise with the Angels and Allah.

Your heart will be so big in Paradise, I promise this.

You will be with who you love in Paradise.

You will be invincible in Paradise.

You will enter Paradise as an Israelite.

We may not have much of an understanding of what Paradise is like.

In Paradise there is something in it for everyone, even if that is just the food that is without words.

The respect you get in Paradise is perfect. There is not one flaw written in it, not one shortcoming, not one person who feels they don't get the respect they deserve.

The houri will make noises that you have not heard that are perfect during sex that no man could pass up on. Another thing too is that in Paradise you get as much sex as you want, this means you wasted your time on this earth watching pornography. The wedding to the houri can cost as much as you want. The sex is something else in Paradise that you couldn't put in words explaining it to someone, you would be too amazed you simply could not speak. The thought of it instantly makes you lose your breath. When the houri come to you, you tremble every time knowing what is about to happen. You couldn't walk away if you tried, they won't leave you until they are done with you. One after another comes to you bashfully at a slow pace until they cover where you are. When you are having sex, all you focus on is love/pleasure, nothing else, no other woman is on your mind no other man is on her mind, no women could match the women you are currently making love to, you have the best women possible. If you are having sex with all the houri at once, then it is all the houri at once. Your wife/wives would not put any thought into how you are having sex with a woman that isn't her. You decide with the houri who they can and cannot talk to with your male friends. You will be the best in bed like none other. You can have whatever pace you want to have sex with them. You will be telling the houri what to do. If you want, they can push you around all you want. The houri engage in oral sex as much as you please. I don't know if anal sex is prohibited, I would think so. The houri will touch you anywhere you want. The houris breasts are certainly big, perhaps as big as you could ever imagine. They are very feminine, perhaps the most feminine a woman could be. The sex positions could be something new that has never been done on the world. Their genitalia is the tightest it could possibly be. You will have the strength of 100 men in Paradise. The only name that excites the houri is yours. Their lips are so sweet the delight from making out with them is unreal. The houri may potentially appear to you with the beauty you may desire. You may fulfill any other sexual desire you choose. The houri love every detail about you. They are made for you alone, not desiring any other male. The houri will call you all these names that a man couldn't resist to hear. When the houri call your name, you are reminded of what is to come every time, the feeling never gets old. You can last as long as you want.

The sex in Paradise cannot be described, you would faint on this earth. Without getting into detail, think of what will happen when engaged in such action.

Perhaps in Paradise we will discover not only everything about ourselves but more and more that is endless. It is possible this would be exactly what the world wanted. Mankind has a bit of knowledge the Quran says.

You may think you are big; you have no clue how big you will be in Paradise. You will be beyond infinite. Not only will you be untouchable, all would fear your presence but Allah, his Prophets, and the Angels.

Since haste is from the Devil, that means nothing will be done in haste in Paradise.

Until you want to be perfect, you will not get into Paradise, the Angels will forbid you from such. I believe it will be shielded off. Until you want the absolute best a human can imagine for someone, you will not get in.

Suppose Paradise was not perfect, Paradise would collapse.

I will repeat this many more times, there is something in Paradise for everyone. Paradise is infinite that means exploration is. That means when a new thing is created by Allah or a human, you will be ecstatic to know about it, you then get a new thing to be ecstatic about and move on to that new thing or stay with the previous thing.

The meats to consume in Paradise will be big.

In Paradise you can talk about the biggest game because you are the biggest game ever. You are not a Prophet so you can't claim you revealed scripture. You also cannot claim you are higher than Allah's throne. Anything else you can claim such as being the best man or woman the world has ever seen; none can dispute it. One thing though, everyone else is the best in Paradise. The description of Paradise is not metaphoric in any way, this is what you will be receiving in Paradise. When someone sees what is in Paradise past the bridge, they will be begging Allah to get in for what is in store for them.

The knowledge in Paradise may be infinite, we know mankind has a bit of knowledge.

No trophy or metal will matter in Paradise, only to the person who had it on the earth. That means any famous basketball player who won a championship, no one will care about it only to talk about it with the famous basketball player for a good time of a good memory being their fan on the earth.

The music is like nothing else.

You will be wealthier than anyone on the earth in Paradise.

When the servants and the Angels sing praise of you, it is elegant like no other. The praise you will be getting from the Angels and servants in Paradise is unknown to mankind.

You can explore anywhere you want in Paradise; it is for you. Paradise is never ending.

There will be cheers after cheers in Paradise. The victory in Paradise, by God cannot be compared to anything the earth has to offer.

You can meet anyone on the earth in Paradise.

Every jinn will be seen in Paradise.

Every Angel will be seen in Paradise.

In Paradise you may have your own personal Mosque.

You will not be envious of anyone.

You will have wings to fly with in Paradise.

The perfume in Paradise is like none other.

In Paradise, there is rain.

You can have as many islands as you want.

The clothing in Paradise is the most expensive clothing it could possibly be.

You can talk to animals in Paradise.

You can potentially have any animal as a pet in Paradise.

The fame and status you will be getting in Paradise is like nothing anyone has achieved on this earth.

In Paradise you can watch any sport you want; you will get front row seats upon request.

Before entering Paradise, whatever suffering you had on this earth will be removed. I don't know how it will be removed but I know it will be no more.

In Paradise, you will have all the talent you could ever ask for.

The best malls with anything you could imagine in them, endless.

You as well can perform miracles in Paradise like the Prophets did.

Your beauty will increase every Friday. Every woman's beauty will be out of this world in Paradise.

You will be 30 or 33 years of age in Paradise.

You will have no body hair.

There will be endless servants for you in Paradise.

We have no clue if pork is allowed to be eaten in Paradise.

You can teleport in Paradise.

You can have as many private jets as you want.

There is a good change that there are actual cartoon characters in Paradise. An infinite amount of them.

In Paradise, everything will always go the best way possible.

Paradise may get better and better every day.

You can have any gun you want in Paradise.

You can smoke as much as you want in Paradise.

You will be in the best clubs possible in Paradise.

The fruits in Paradise are endless.

No matter what amount of food you eat in Paradise, your weight will stay the same.

In Paradise, you may be able to be whatever character you want to be in it like a superhero.

For us guys, your wives in Paradise are incapable of complaining. For the women in Paradise, your man is incapable of complaining, he is the leader you always wanted.

A palace will be built for the person on the outskirts of Paradise who had given up lying in support of a false claim. A person who gave up an argument when the person is in the right, a palace will be built from the person in the middle of Paradise. A person who had good ethics on the earth, a palace will be built for the person in the highest reaches of Paradise.

We have a small idea of what we will look like in Paradise.

There will be an endless supply of what you want in Paradise.

Every book in Paradise is written perfectly in Paradise.

Perhaps the personalities are endless.

The treasures in Paradise say to the believer “there is no might or power except that of Allah”.

No one will be jealous of someone else for whom they are married to in Paradise.

There are high hills with rivers underneath.

The events will be the highest possible events one could ever imagine in Paradise.

There are rivers of milk, honey, and wine in Paradise.

You will get the Sealed Nectar in Paradise if you gave food to the poor.

The first food you will eat in Paradise will be fish liver.

You can have a castle in Paradise.

Ablution is in Paradise.

The gates of Paradise are open during Ramadan.

The first drink you will have in Paradise will be from the Pond of Abundance. Pond of Abundance is in Paradise, the Pond of Abundance quenches thirst.

There are four rivers in Paradise, they are the Saihan River, the Jaihan River, the Euphrates River, and the Nile River.

There is a market in Paradise that is open on Friday. The fragrance in it is memorable.

Al Kauthar is reserved in Paradise. The water in the river in Al Kauthar is described as whiter than milk and sweeter than honey. The river's smell is nicer than musk. Whoever drinks from it will never go thirsty. There are more drinking cups in Al Kauthar than stars in the sky.

The alcohol in Paradise is not the same as alcohol on the earth.

There are horses made of rubies with two wings that can fly wherever you want to go in Paradise.